

We are delighted to invite you to the US premiere of Hear Here!

A UNIQUE IMPROVISATIONAL CONCERT EXPERIENCE AT SHAPESHIFTER LAB IN BROOKLYN, PRESENTED BY MUSIKCENTRUM SWEDEN & THE CONSULATE GENERAL OF SWEDEN IN NEW YORK

Hear Here! features five of Sweden's foremost improvisational musicians – Lisa Ullén, piano; Sofia Jernberg, voice; Christopher Cantillo, drums; Ida Lundén, live electronics and objects; David Stackenäs, guitar – who have teamed up for a unique collaborative project and road show, creating new music with local artists and building musical bridges along the way.

We're proud to announce that the acclaimed cellist Okkyung Lee will join the project as guest artist for the ShapeShifter Lab performance in New York.

In a continuously evolving set-up, each Hear Here! concert is a totally improvised experience. The first iterations of the project – in Sweden, the UK and Japan – have been overwhelmingly praised by critics and audiences alike.

Hear Here! is always a visual treat. The award-winning filmmaker Mårten Nilsson has been working on a Super 8 film around the project, with visuals and elements of footage continuously added to the performance.

The poster for the project was created by the internationally renowned Swedish artist Jockum Nordström, represented in London and New York by David Zwirner Gallery. Read more about the project on the Musikcentrum website.

Hear Here! at ShapeShifter Lab
18 Whitwell Place, Brooklyn
(Subway: R to Union Street)

Thursday, September 15
Doors at 6:30 pm, show at 7:30 pm
Post-show reception supported by the Consulate General of Sweden

RSVP to <mailto:ragnar@musikcentrum.se> by September 13